

Graduate Science Research Methods

Graduate Summer School
Graduate Methodology Courses
July 24, 2012

Social Science Research Methods

Graduate Summer School
Graduate Methodology Courses
July 30 - August 3, 2012

UCL Postgraduate Summer School: Social Science Research Methods is designed to expose postgraduate students and researchers to advanced methodologies for conducting social science research. Combining both qualitative and quantitative techniques, the courses offer students and researchers a unique opportunity to meet leading scientists in their areas, to develop professional networks and to broaden their set of research skills.

Qualitative Research Methods

3-day Introductory (MS00003)
2-day Intermediate (MS00004)

Statistical Research Methods

3-day Introductory (MS00002)
2-day Intermediate (MS00001)

Research Design for Medicine with UCL

6-day Introductory (MS00005)
6-day Intermediate (MS00006)

Accommodation Available for those

Applying for Courses

July 12, 2012 (postgraduate applicants)
June 12, 2012 (for local applicants)

Enquiries: enquiries@ucl.ac.uk

SSRM covers both quantitative and qualitative methods to provide a well-rounded introduction to research methods.

Professor John James Flynn
Associate Professor of Management, Business School
The Chinese University of Hong Kong, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

The cross-cultural exchanges, rigorous coursework and location in a global city make the experience excellent value.

James Cochr
Columbia University, USA

